SASKATCHEWAN MURDER CASE

STURGIS, Sask.—Robert Patterson, 41-year-old farmer on Saturday shot and killed his two daughters and one son, and then turned the gun on himself, in their little farm home near here, Patterson died from his wounds Sunday morning.

QUINTS MUST STAY IN CANADA

Canada's famed Dionne quintuplets will not be permitted to go to the Glasgow International Fair next year, Judge J.A. Vain of North Bay, one of the Quint's guardians, said Sunday in connection with a report from Scotland the fair directors were anxious to have the famous five little girls go to Glasgow for the exhibition. Judge Vain said the Quints were too young and such a trip would be too hazardous for them.

DISALLOWANCE TEST JANY 10

OTTAWA—Chief Justice Duff last Saturday advised legal agents of the Dominion and provinces that January 10 had been fixed for hearing the reference of the Supreme Court validly of the Dominion government's power to disallow provincial statutes if a lieutenant governor were to reserve bills for the pleasure of the governor general.

CAMPBELL IS UNITY CANDIDATE

LETHBRIDGE—Dr. Peter McCrea Campbell, for 37 years a medical practitioner in Southern Alberta, will carry the banner of unity against the Aberhart government in the by-election in Lethbridge on Friday evening, December 2. Dr. Campbell received the unanimous nomination from a four-party convention on Friday evening at which equal delegations from U.P.A., Liberal, Conservative and People's League constituency organizations were seated.

CANADIAN FARMERS HOLDING

So far Western Canadian farmers who have what to market have shown no great readiness to move with their supplies, writes A.R. Bailey of Toronto, in the Northwestern Miller. Unless forced to sell they are disposed to hold. Many, no doubt, have sold enough to provide any cash required for immediate needs. The remainder is being held, especially where the quality is high. Up to the middle of October deliveries from farms of all eras amounted to just under 75 million bushels. Information circulating in Canada indicates that the amount of what available for use in international trade is not material. It is greater than the normal requirements, with a great deal of it inferior quality. It is this factor which is leading Canadian farmers who have really high grade wheat to hold it against a fair certainty that prices for such grain will advance before the end of the crop year, regardless of what may happen to prices for inferior wheats.

CARBON OLD TIMERS

BANQUET AND DANCE

WED., NOVEMBER 24

Banquet Will Commence at 7:00 P.M., in Evening

The Carbon Old Timers Association will hold their annual celebration on Wednesday, November 24th, in the Farmers Exchange Hall, Carbon.

The proceedings will start with a big banquet, at which it is expected a large number of old timers will be present.

The committee in charge of the banquet is Messrs. H.M. McNaughton and H.A. Evans, and the catering will be done by the W.A. of the Anglican Church.

After the banquet a programme has been arranged by the Entertainment Committee, Messrs. W.A. Brasher and H.A. Evans, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, speeches, acrobatic feats, etc.

An early start will be made on the old time dance, the music being provided by Mrs. Trainor's old time orchestra.

The Dance Programme Committee, Messrs. Madams Craddock and Van Loan, have drawn up a splendid list of old time dances, consisting of 32 items, including such old favourites as the French Minuet, Log Cabin Jerey, Red and Toe Polka, Billie's Waltz, Highland Scotchies, Three Step, Roberts Waltz Quadrille, New Waltz, and many others.

The Dance Committee will be Messrs. W.L. Van Loan, G.W. Appleby, R. Thorburn and J. Gordon.

The midnight lunch will be provided by the James W. L. Powell.

This year here will be a Registration Committee consisting of Messrs. T.J. King and W.J. Poole, who will register all Old Timers and the year they came to Alberta.

The other committees were, Posters, C.H. Nash; Orchestra, J. Gordon and G.H. Nash.

This is the 46th annual banquet of the Carbon Old Timers Association, and a very large crowd is expected.

Dick Gilchrist has started the Highland Fiddle music in the hall.

At road work for the season is now at a standstill.

BRAZIL ENDS COFFEE BURNING

In June 1933 the Brazilian government insured a policy of coffee destruction in order to remove the surplus of coffee from the market.

This year the policy was abandoned because of the lack of co-operation of the coffee producers in the marketing. It is calculated that in the seven intervening years 50 million bushels of coffee were destroyed principally by burning. This works out at about two years world trade in coffee.

Brazil formerly supplied 70 per cent of the coffee required in world trade.

Since the war has been steadily increasing until the total reached 50 per cent.

WINTER IS HERE

While many thought that last week's snow would disappear, they were sadly disillusioned, for the weather has turned and about six inches of snow now covers the ground, although the forecast is for brighter weather, with cold nights.

Snow has fallen sparsely for the past five days and is almost certain to remain now until next spring, unless we get a two or three day chinook. However, farmers report cattle in splendid shape and feed more plentiful than last year.

UNWIN AND POWELL EACH GET JAIL SENTENCES

Joseph H. Unwin, Social Credit M.L.A. for Edson, was sentenced to three months in jail by Justice W.C. Ives on Friday, after conviction by a jury in Supreme Court, Alberta, following trial based on publication of a pamphlet entitled "bankers toadies" that was widely distributed.

The jury also found guilty R. W. Powell, counsel for Mr. Unwin, immediately filed notice of appeal and applied for writ of Habeas Corpus.

Powell also appealed.

G. F. Powell, London, Douglas Social Credit consultant in Alberta, was sentenced to six months in jail with hard labour, and advised his deportation would be recommended.

Justice W.C. Ives, late Monday afternoon, was found guilty of libel in connection with the "bankers toadies" pamphlet. The jury censured Powell for his activities since coming to Alberta.

He was a "propagandist" whose products Alberta could do without—"bankers toadies" said his London agent.

Powell's sentence will be appealed.

TRANSFORMING FRIENDSHIP

(By Rev. W.H. McDannold)

One of the central teachings of Jesus Christ is that the person who ranks high with God is one who serves his fellow men, "the greatest among you" is he that is a servant.

The word "service" has been taken up as a slogan by many clubs, societies and business organizations. No other age has so many people pretending to be engaged in service for their fellow men.

Can I find God in service? Yes and no. Sometimes the service I render is so much of a sham that it is not service at all.

Service more vital and therefore more difficult, that I know perfectly well, does not come from the heart. In other words I make the service I render a means of running away from the better things of God.

Can I remember times when I exaggerated the importance and necessity of my service? Yes, I have done so as to be too busy and thereby made a relationship with another person.

Again if the service I render is simply to gain the praise of men, much more easily obtained than the praise of God, then it is not service.

The genuine thing is the service that is the heart. "Of the abundance of the heart" the whole life unconsciously expresses itself.

It is not service that is the joy and reinforcement that comes from God. Some men I have met who have home buffed and with a "devil" in my heart. After such experiences I know what casualness is, expressed in the old doctrine of "Original Sin". Honestly, can I render high service in thinking, living and practical helpfulness to the people in your neighborhood but to the other kind too and keep it as you leave God's help only? I know not! Wherefore the jealousy and bitterness is prevalent everywhere.

To what our world is showing "We change governments" but as the late Student-Kennedy said: "we only take one lot of sinners out and put another lot in." We constantly change the scenery and various actors move across the stage and platform ranting and raving—until Jesus Christ comes on the scene. By a sure instinct we know that His service is the only thing that is the real thing.

Why? It puts life first regardless of consequence to price or this world's prestige.

According to the last issue of The Glasgow Call, Chen was the first to lose game. H. Birch, the Glenlivet lumberman, has been playing a game with Edmondson, which lasted for over two years. Mr. Birch eventually won the game in 79 moves, Lussan resigning.

OBITUARY

CHARLES H. IRWIN

Funeral services for the late Chas. Henry Irwin, Carbon farmer who died at his home near Carbon on November 12th, will be held at 2 p.m. on Friday, November 19th. Pallbearers were Lloyd Armstrong, Clyde Anderson, Jim O'Rourke, John McWay, D. Edmondson and L. Saunders. Interment followed in the Carbon cemetery.

Deceased came to the Carbon district over 30 years ago and was in his 57th year. He leaves a sorrowing wife, one son, Henry, and one daughter, Mrs. V. Moorhouse, all of Carbon district.

CARBON TRANSPORT TRUCK AND CARGO BURNS TUES.

Fire of undetermined origin damaged the truck of the Carbon Transport Co. on Tuesday night when the cargo was a total loss. We understand that the cargo and truck were covered by fire insurance, but the inconvenience caused by delay of goods to the Carbon district, the present order, Irvin Mortimer, caused considerable anxiety.

ARE THE DROUTH YEARS AT AN END?

A distinguished American scientist, a short time ago announced that he believed the drought years were at an end for the reason, he stated, that his investigations had led him to believe that the weather cycles occurred with rhythms of 23 and 46 years respectively, being influenced in and turn governed by solar radiation cycles. The present drought, which started in 1929, he considered found its counterpart in similar droughts which started 23 and 46 years ago.

Investigators of the rings in trees under study seem to be convinced that this theory is correct.

It is great droughts followed by 46 and 23 years they should be indicated by Western Canadian rainfall records.

It is interesting to note that the Western Canadian rainfall records, as far as the records go, have been examined by the Scarle Grain Company, and find them to be correct.

The average yearly rainfall—fall and growing season only, winter snow included—over the 50 years period starting 46 years ago, for 10 points within the prairie semi-arid area, or—in the Palliser line—averaged 11.43 inches; whereas the long time average for the same points is 12.24 inches.

For 9 points outside of the Palliser line, or in what is termed the prairie wooded area, the similar annual five-year average for the same points is 12.24 inches.

Concerning the period of 23 years ago—inside the semi-arid area the first five years included—over the 50 years period starting 23 years ago, the long time average rainfall of 11.24 inches, the long time average for 12.24 inches, the long time average for 12.24 inches, the long time average for 12.24 inches.

Outside the semi-arid area, 20 points for the first five years 23 years ago show an annual average of 12.21 inches, with the long time average for the same points of 12.70 and for the last two years 11.69 inches.

Apparently then, while the average yearly rainfall for the five years for periods 46 years ago and 23 years ago show slightly less rainfall than the long time average, the difference is not significant.

It is noted also that there were no two years together, either four years or 23 years ago, when 8.02 inches of rainfall was anything like as low for both years as it has been during these last two years of 1936-37, but there was in one year, 1886, for the ten points in the semi-arid area, one had drought in the same year, 1910, an average of 8.27 inches.

Also to be noted is the fact that 23 years ago, for 32 points in the semi-arid area, there was one year, 1910, which averaged only 8.09 inches; and for 26 points, in the wooded area, for the same year, 1910, an average of only 8.27 inches.

About 46 years ago, therefore, while there was not a series of drought years such as we have recently experienced, there was one year, 1886, which was somewhat worse than any that has occurred during this recent drought and about 23 years ago there was also a very bad drought year in 1910.

MRS. COSTELLA INJURED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

When a truck turned over three times on the Chestermere Lake highway on Wednesday morning about ten o'clock, Mrs. Axel Costella of the Carbon district suffered severe chest injuries and her husband was badly shaken up.

Mrs. Costella who was driving a light delivery truck, encountered a soft spot on the road and the truck skidded, finally turning over three times before coming to a stop.

G. J. Bell of Banter, a passing motorist, added the injured people and took them to Calgary, where Mrs. Costella was placed in the care of Dr. H. Stuart, at the Calgary Associated Clinic.

WEEKLY COMMENT ON THE WORLD OF WHEAT BY H. G. L. STRANGE

"By selfish and short-sighted husbandry prairie farmers have mined their land and ruined their soil."

It is a pity that the prairie farmers can no longer rely upon Western Canada to supply her with foodstuffs; consequently, the prairie farmers are in a fix, British farmers must be protected and encouraged to increase their home production of wheat and other foodstuffs.

These are studied statements that have been made recently over and over again by Mr. A.S. Street, former Manitoba homesteader, noted English farmer and distinguished writer of news columns and subjects.

Mr. Street's articles appeared in the "Financial Post" of Toronto, and the "Western Daily Telegraph" and were broadcast by radio over Great Britain and then published in the "Lancet", the British Broadcasting Corporation's journal.

In a recent regard Mr. Street's statements as a definite indictment against the prairie farmers.

The statements are simply untrue. Our farmers are not soil miners; they are good husbandmen.

Careful investigations made into rainfall and yields by the Research Department of the Scarle Grain Co. clearly indicate that whenever our prairie enjoy good rains, then our fields once again become fertile, and yield up bountiful crops.

The following factors have tended to raise prices:

Wet weather threatens early Australian harvest. U.S. makes corn. Ecuador authorities when in power. Moisture reserve very deficient in much of Canada. Spain obtains Italian wheat. Oklahoma wheat crop badly damaged by worms.

The following factors have tended to lower prices:

Harvest commences in Argentina. Tentative Australian wheat estimate for 1937-38. Rainfall benefit growing crops in Argentina. U.S. winter wheat acreage practically the same as last year.

Wet weather in Argentina. Australian shipments continue on a liberal scale. Almost crop for 1937 largest ever produced in California.

TREES AVAILABLE FOR ALBERTA FARMERS

With reference to the very important function of tree planting in Alberta, it was learned in an interview given recently by the Hon. N.E. Tancred, Minister of Lands and Mines, that certain species of trees are available to farmers for transplanting in existing bluffs and the extension of windbreaks. These trees may be secured on application to the Forestry Department of the Government.

The principal object in view was to provide transplanting of the more durable species for planting in natural bluffs, shelter belts and windbreaks. A number of the native varieties now found in existing bluffs are not in the present year for trees for planting in the spring of 1938.

There is available for planting in the spring of 1938 a large quantity of lodgepole pine, green ash and nordmann fir and a limited quantity of white spruce and elm. There is also a considerable number of birch and red oak available for distribution. The province has been experimenting with these two latter species for several years, and it is found that they are successfully grown in Alberta.

To avoid any possible confusion, application forms should be properly filled out as to quantity and species desired and should be returned to the Department not later than the end of the present year for trees for planting in the spring of 1938.

The Big Interests

One is sometimes tempted to wonder why those so-called old fashioned virtues—thrift, hard work, prudence and integrity, are so frequently sneered at nowadays and discounted as something that is out-moded and therefore, if not actually to be abhorred, at least something to be ashamed of.

Despite the fact that history, and particularly comparatively recent history, abounds with the names of men who from little or nothing have built up great industries, have risen to wealth or power, by the application of these virtues, plus ability and foresight, it would appear as if they were to be condemned, and the capitalist "system" (in which combination with a democratic form of government gives the poor boy an opportunity to rise from the ranks ought to be relegated to the ash heap, if such proponents of upheaval are to be believed.

Without holding any particular bias for capitalism and the capitalists one cannot help but deplore a good deal of the loose talk which is indulged in, at all too frequently, in which the capitalist is held up as the foe of the common man and such terms as "the big interests" and the "big shot" are used to express contempt, if not hatred, for those who have got along in a competitive world by their own efforts, and in which such slogans (born out of statistics in the United States and Canada) "the rich are becoming richer and the poor are becoming poorer," pass for currency and are accepted by some as gospel.

It would almost seem as if none of the facts are forgotten; that, for instance, without capital labor could achieve nothing of consequence; that the cooperative efforts of capital and labor have made the luxuries of yesterday the necessities of to-day and that inevitably the luxuries of to-day will become the necessities of tomorrow and that nowhere in the world have these achievements approached the zenith as they have in the countries of this continent where free rein has been given to individual effort under a democratic, capital-labor system to an extent as yet unrealized elsewhere in actual practice.

Citing a number of illustrations of men who have risen to important posts in industry J. Lambert Payne writing in the Ottawa Journal refers, among many others, to Walter P. Chrysler, whose story is an extraordinary tribute to the old fashioned virtues, and the late John B. Booth, of Ottawa, and goes on to say:

"Individually, if wealth being in the hands of a predatory few, as is often alleged, its diffusion is the salient fact of our time. As a matter of fact in Canada, it is literally in the hands of millions. . . . There is not a trace of cohesion or cooperation among the capitalists (referring to allegations that the big interests combine to thwart the will of the people). Chrysler and Booth had to meet strenuous rivalry at every step in their progress; and that for reason, so potent to the judicial mind, we use a misleading word when we speak of capitalism as 'a system'."

"Moreover," as Mr. Payne points out, "the exorcism of capitalism in certain quarters ignores the fact that it has existed since organized society began, and," he concludes, "will likely persist. Commerce is impossible without it."

And not in industry alone has capital, as far in the history of the world, been one of the two essential factors to civilized progress; but it is also an important element in agriculture. Every farmer is himself an illustration of the co-operative effort of capital and labor, for every farmer is both a capitalist and a laborer. Every man who purchases a half section of land and a line of implements and power to operate them becomes a capitalist and when, in addition to that, he hires a man to operate some of his machinery he places himself in the category of a capitalist employer of labor.

And every farmer who has employed one or more men knows that there must be cooperation and accord between himself and his hired man if both, as either, are to attain maximum results.

It has often been said that there is nothing new under the sun and that is true of efforts to decry capitalists and capitalism. The same cry has been raised during every depression which has struck industry on the North American continent, as was aptly pointed out, with examples, in a recent issue of a popular magazine.

If past history is to be regarded as a guide, it is probably fairly safe to assume that with the return of prosperity, the baiting of what is regarded as "the big interests" will disappear as people become more preoccupied with efforts to advance their own interests, provided that while they are doing so they are not unmindful of their obligations to others.

In the agricultural world, which has been as hard hit as industry, and in these sections which are still facing the dire results of prolonged drought, the disappearance of the big capital may be retarded, but the time will in all probability come when the bank and the file will look back in retrospect and wonder what it was all about.

Filing of Fingerprints

Urges Voluntary Filing By The General Public
Voluntary filing of fingerprints by the general public with police should be encouraged, report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, recently printed, states. Many instances of the value of fingerprints for identification purposes, apart from criminal investigations, have come to light.

"It is certain that at least the travelling public (and who is not a traveller) should be encouraged to file their prints with us for use in case of misfortune," wrote Inspector W. W. Watson, of the fingerprint section.

"During the year we identified two unfortunate simply because of their past criminal records. In one instance we were able to satisfy an insurance company, thus promptly benefitting the beneficiary."

"Only recently a gentleman of considerable means of memory recalled his impression with us. Possibly much worry would have been saved in numerous other instances if the prints of certain individuals were available for comparison purposes."

The two "unfortunates" referred to were men found dead on railway tracks. One, found at St. Boniface, Man., was identified as Steve Kosicki, whose prints were on record because he had been convicted in Port Arthur for assault. The immigrant department had further information about the man which enabled steps to be taken to notify relatives in Poland.

The other man was found at Bellefleur, Ont., and his prints were on file because of some offence. He was known to have been a former inmate of Ottawa and his father identified a photograph which was also on file. There was no insurance on his life and his relatives were able to obtain payment.

As usual the fingerprint records of the force were useful in many cases of crime, assisting in the tracing of the records of persons arrested and in directing police to the offenders. One man was arrested although he wore the precaution to wear gloves. A year on one of the gloves was missing. He was Thomas L. McGill and the offence was breaking into a service station at Lindsay, Ont.

An Ultra-Modern School

Opened Recently At Hford, England, And Accommodates 1,000 Pupils

A new school with the impressive lines of an ultra-modern factory has just opened in Hford, England, with accommodation for 1,000 children between 5 and 11.

It is the Turrill Elementary school and it took a year to build and cost nearly $200,000.

The school has two halls, a film projection room and wireless equipment to accommodate a loud-speaker in each room. There is a tiny toilet department, complete with hot water, holler-skitter and fairy cycle.

A special avenue is being built to enable children to pass safely from the south to the north side of the arterial road. The subway will admit directly into the school grounds. Plans have been provided in detail to facilitate the passage of perambulators.

On the class masters in the school are university graduates.

Statue Of Christ

Erected On Barren Rock Enormous On Bering Sea

A life-size statue of Christ faces Russia across the Bering Sea from the highest point of land on lonely Christ the King Island, erected by the island's population of 150 Roman Catholic Eskimos as a symbol of Christ's love.

Details of the statue and its dedication were revealed in New York by Max Fleiszig Burell, niece of the late Mrs. Samuel J. Kitten, widow of the famous British sculptor. Mrs. Kitten, before she died seven months ago, completed the statue her husband started.

Father Bernard R. Hubbard, the "glacier priest," scientist and explorer is responsible for the erection of the statue on the barren rock, some 800 feet above sea level, 85 miles from Russia.

There are 70,000 people houses in England, of which 28,000 have been rebuilt or modernized since 1935.

Novelist Has Recipes Used By Famous Italian Poisons

There is a bank in London which has in its vaults secret recipes of all the deadly poisons known to the Borgias, the famous Italian poisoners.

They have been placed there for safety by a woman who is afraid they may get into the hands of the wrong people.

She is Miss Kitty Shannon, novelist and daughter of the late Sir James Shannon, the famous R.A.

When she decided to write her recipes about Italian poisons, Miss Shannon went to Italy to hunt up the poisons they used for inclusion in the book.

Miss Shannon told the Daily Sketch: "I advertised in a Rome paper for somebody who knew the recipes."

"The first thing that happened was that I had a visit from police men, but I was able to convince them that I had no evil intentions."

"Then I had a visit from a chemist, in fact, one of his ancestors had prepared poisons for the Borgias. He gave me the recipes for ten different poisons."

"I was appalled by the simplicity of some of them. Which I did not reveal, is so simple that it can be prepared from nothing but different weeds that you tread underfoot any time you go for a country walk. I was told that it will kill you in about fifteen minutes."

"And now there is a little difficulty over my book. The poison recipes have been sold to the public but the publishers are also nervous."

"So some of the Borgia poisons will have to remain secret. They will stay at the bank until I destroy them. They are too big a responsibility."

When The King Intervenes

Young Officers In Royal Service Are Often Helped

Every commission in the three fighting services requires the Royal signature. To facilitate this task, in itself no light one, each commission has attached to the edge of the paper opposite where the King signs, a little strip of blotting paper, which, after signing his office, the King bends back this attachment and the signature is dried without further trouble.

Like his father, the King interests himself personally in all recipients of his commission. All court martial proceedings, before presiding officers submitted to him, and often intervene King George V. would interfere. When young officers, who had got into money troubles and cashiering was recommended, he would on occasion point out that the trouble arose through the youngster joining an expensive regiment, and suggest, instead of cashiering, transference to a less exacting unit.

At least one brigadier-general on the army list to-day owes his military career to such intervention by King George V.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

Well Qualified

"So," said the old general, "you think you would make a good valet for an old wreck like me, do you? I have a glass eye, a wooden leg, and a wax arm that need looking after, not to mention false teeth and so forth."

Farm Machinery Imports

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Canada's September imports of farm implements and machinery were worth $1,738,849, a large increase over the $800,222 worth of September, 1936. During the first six months of the present fiscal year imports were valued at $10,709,275 against $6,081,160 in the same period the previous fiscal year.

The Word Hydro

Means Something Apart From Electric Power In Britain

In Canada, the word "hydro" usually refers to one of the country's most vital assets, hydro-electric power. It is a different story in Britain, where the people always think of a hydro when "hydro" is mentioned. The term is short for "Hydrographic" English and Scottish hydro usually means a hydrographic hotel where water cures are the thing.

Canadians learned something about them during the visit of 22 Scottish hotelkeepers and their wives. The party, organized under the joint auspices of the Scottish Travel Association and the Hotels and Restaurants' Association of Great Britain, spent a day at Ottawa, seeing the Parliament Buildings and other aspects of the capital and making a thorough inspection tour of The Chateau Laurier, where they were entertained to dinner by the Canadian National Railways hotel department.

Two hydroes were represented in the group—one at Peebles and the other at Skelmohie. Hotel names in the list that seemed particularly romantic to Canadian ears were the Uglade Arms of Machrihanish, the Duke of Gordon Hotel of Kingussie, and the Ballic Niall Jorjiv of Aberfoyle. The last is named after a popular Walter Scott character, the Duke of Gordon, "Bob Roy"—C.N.R. News Bulletin.

Bar Canadian Nurses

American Officials To Take Steps To Prevent Their Entry To U.S.

James Houghteling, United States commissioner, is making a letter made public by the National Nurses' Association, said immediate steps would be taken to prevent the further entry of job-seeking Canadian nurses into the United States.

The association recently protested to Labor Secretary Perkins against what it called the "wholesale importation" of Canadian nurses to hospitals in New York state and elsewhere "to the detriment of qualified graduate American nurses in New York and the entire United States."

The protest was referred to Houghteling, who replied:

"I have been examining the records and am inclined to agree with you that the country we have been extending to our officers on the Canadian border that while Canadian nurses made be admitted on visitors' permits for ordinary visits on cases which require temporary entry into the United States, visitors' permits shall no longer be issued for the purpose of enabling Canadian nurses to come into this country to take jobs."

To protect peasants against high prices of uncrucupulous middlemen the Hungarian government has instituted the practice of posting egg prices daily in the nation's post-offices.

Westminster is London's most dangerous borough, according to statistics of road accidents, while Stoke Newington is the safest.

AT 83 SHE DEFIES RHEUMATISM

After Suffering Acute Pain For Years

Rheumatism first attacked this lady in 1921. At first, I felt acute pain spread from her arms to other parts of her body. Then she started to take Kruschen Salts, and now she sends the following letter in her own handwriting to take Kruschen Salts.

"I have suffered from rheumatism since 1921. At first, I felt acute pain in both arms. I could not sleep for pain. It grew worse, and gradually crept down to the tips of my fingers. Next it reached my knees and ankles, which made me quite helpless for a long period. A friend recommended me to take Kruschen Salts. I find they do me more good than any other medicine. I cannot sit in my own writing, though I am in my 84th year. (Mrs. H.)

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are often caused by deposits of needle-pointed uric acid crystals in the joints. These crystals are made by the Salts stimulate your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and assist them to get rid of the excess uric acid which is frequently the cause of your suffering.

London's Passenger Trains

Over 7,000 Arrive And Leave Terminals Every Day

The British Railways Press Office announces that over 7,000 passenger trains arrive and leave London's seven main terminals every day, an average of five trains a minute. There are nearly twice as many passenger and freight trains for every mile of track as there are in France, more than five times as many as there are in the United States. Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Instructor: "You say in this paper that you know the connecting link between the animal and vegetable kingdoms. What is it?"
Student: "Stew."

RHEUMATIC PAINS ARE TORTURE!

Don't let rheumatic pains make your life miserable. Rheumatic pains are produced by kidney action and prevent the elimination of acids from the system. This drive away the acids! Remove by taking up the kidney pills. You can't stand properly so they can't stand their feet through their own!

AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The Company's elevators continue to receive a gratifying measure of patronage, not only from shareholders, but also from thousands of other former customers. It is such support which in the past has provided the basis for the success of the Company and which it must be the continued endeavor of the Company to merit.In other words, in the last annual report, the Directors of United Grain Growers Limited acknowledged the loyal support of the Company's patrons.

Economical Housewives

There was a day when the housewives bought the far-away "bargain" in the belief that it was good business to save a few pennies. But experience taught them a few things. Today's housewives do not buy blindly. They examine the article first and when satisfied with the product they pay a fair price at home. It is economical to make your purchases in CARBON.

Gerdie Ramsey, who is spending the winter with his brother, Norman, at East Coulee, was a Carbon visitor

He—Whom?

Neighbor: "Is this your ball, Tom?"

Tom: "Any windows broken?"

Neighbor: "No, Tom."

Tom: "Yes, in mine, thanks."

With a great deal of bumptiousness the stately elderly gentleman was approached by the rich and vulgar young man."I say," he said, "I think of marrying one of your girls. Have I your permission?""Yes, indeed," was the reply.
"Which one, the cook or the housemaid?""Dad, it says here that a certain man was a financial genius. What does that mean?"Well, son, that means that he could earn money faster than his family could spend it.Judge: What were you doing at that roadside when it was raided?"Locksmith: I was making a 'bolt' for the door!"Visitor (at country hotel): "Boy, dash up to room 65 and see if my umbrella is hanging behind the door."

Harry, because I've a train to catch."

Boy (a few minutes later): "Yes, sir, it is there like you said it was.""Biddy, darling, said Pat, arriving home one pay-day, "I, to yourself, is it not, that's glad to hear of a man having good luck?""Indeed I am, Pat. Who would it be?""Tis Barney. He's won all me wages."
